Fr Scott Says: "There is no dignity when the human dimension is eliminated from the person. In short, the problem with pornography is not that it shows too much of the person, but that it shows far too little." Perhaps we think that what makes pornography gravely immoral is all that nudity. But in reality the worst part of pornography is that it distorts the unitive and procreative aspects of the conjugal act. In short, it removes love from the act of love. Pornography subconsciously teaches us to see others as objects or tools for pleasure, as opposed to fellow human persons created and loved by God. In short, it is a lie. And we all know from whom lies originate. That's what St John Paul II meant in the above quote when he said "there is no dignity when the human dimension is eliminated." Pornography removes the "human dimension" when it teaches us to make the conjugal act about seeking pleasure first before giving yourself to another and simultaneously receiving the other. St John Paul II was correct when he said pornography "shows far too little." It shows far too little of your dignity as a human person. It shows far too little of how much worth you have in the eyes of God.
